

If you believe you can improve your soils, the environment and your quality of life

We would like to meet with you and share ideas.

We are passionate what Allan Savory's Holistic Management can do to help you achieve these goals. Our courses are action packed learning events

Increase Profitability
Better soils and pastures
Reduce Weeds and pests
Better Time Management and Communications

With Allan Savory's thinking.

A finalist in Richard Branson's $25 million Virgin Earth Challenge to reduce greenhouse gasses for the betterment of humanity and the environment

Currently we have a course scheduled for

Berry

Starting on 8 & 9 May 2014

Contact us – we'd love to meet you and share ideas.

www.insideoutsidemgt.com.au

email: brian@insideoutsidemgt.com.au

mob: 0408704431

Educators, Brian Wehlburg and Helen Lewis bring a wealth of experience to their training. We were both trained by Allan Savory in Africa. Brian currently produces pastured beef, pork and eggs on his property on the Mid North Coast. Brian is originally from Africa where he trained tribes' people, since moving to Australia he has worked with indigenous Australians, graziers on both small and large properties and hobby farmers. Helen has varied experience in community development, political advising and agri-politics and currently runs cattle on her Queensland property.

"Certainly the best course I have attended. Totally new ideas passionately promoted by the facilitators, lots of reinforcement. Gives me great hope and motivation for the future!"

Glenn Telford (Vice President, Goat Industry Council) Bymount, QLD

"Everyone gets more from this course than they bargained for. It is evident throughout the course that Holistic Management can benefit everyone from the country to the CBD."

Sam Banello, Kingscliff, NSW

"The Holistic Management course delivered by Inside Outside Management under the TAFE umbrella has far exceeded our expectations! We have learned an enormous amount about what a healthy environment is, what a productive pasture looks like, and how to achieve them. This carries over to include a better understanding of animal health and nutrition achieved with little or no chemical interventions. The fundamental concepts of Holistic Management are powerful and persuasive, and the knowledge and tools taught in the course allow a keen novice and seasoned professional alike to get started straight away."

Julie Brady and Felicity Carter, Forster, NSW

"An excellent course where we were able to explore and develop our own potential goals. We were also given excellent tips and tools and learnt skills to plan and manage our land for improvement in all areas"

Mandi Stevenson, ex vice Chair of Landcare NSW

""Useful for any farm enterprise and really anyone or group trying to make decisions that will be effective, long lasting and transformative. Skilled trainers, great content"

Andrew Jeeves, founding Director of the Permaculture Institute