

Wattle Walk

Saturday 2nd September

Blackguard Gully, Whiteman Ave, Young
9 am to 1.30 pm

Learn about wattles and their unique role in the environment – the valuable production benefits gained by planting wattles for livestock, and their importance for wildlife.

Enjoy a leisurely nature walk amongst the wattles, yellow box, red gums and wildflowers found at the Box Gum Grassy Woodland site, a Threatened Ecological Community.

- Hear about the history of gold mining and riots at the site from Kevin and Marilyn Stemm - Young Historical Society members
- Enjoy the birdlife including honeyeaters, reed warblers and water birds with Young District Landcare's Birds Working Group
- Hear about Young District Landcare's Microbats in the Young District project and view the microbat roosting boxes and revegetation

This event is free. Includes morning tea and lunch.
Please RSVP to Mikla Lewis on 0499 199 016 or email
